DOCTORAL PROGRAMMES

We offer two doctoral programmes, both leading to the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree conferred by our British partner, The University of Buckingham. We accept applications for the doctoral programmes in the following academic fields:

- INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS
- BUSINESS AND MANAGEMENT

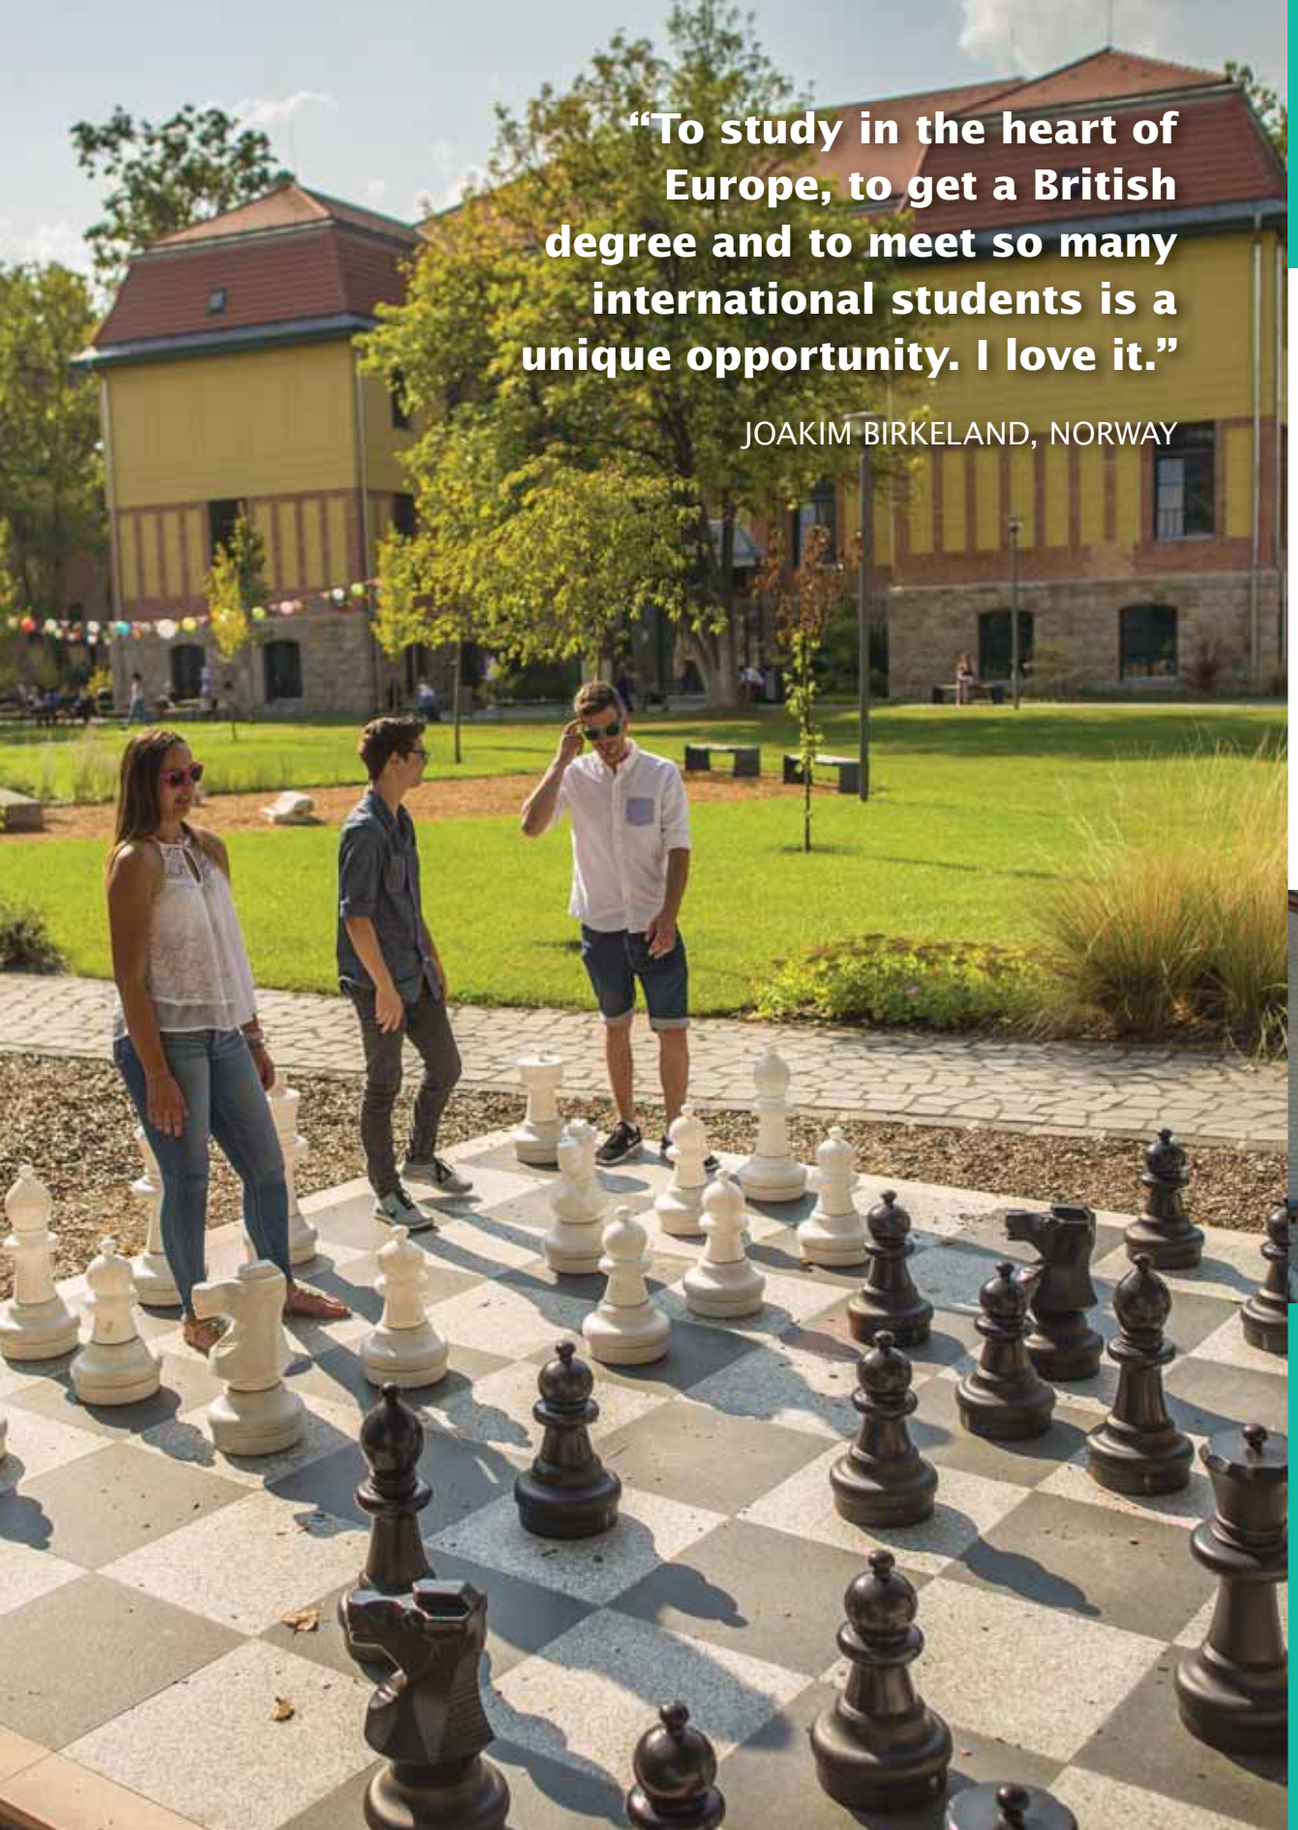

These degrees by research require an original contribution to the body of knowledge in any area of the above academic disciplines where we can offer supervision.
Instead of classes, PhD students attend research workshops on campus where they work on their own topic from the first day of their studies. During the first year, students are registered as preliminary PhD students who, besides attending the workshops, must regularly consult with their supervisors to develop a formal research proposal. Students must successfully defend their research proposal after the first year before a panel of professors to earn conversion to full PhD candidate status. PhD candidates must also subject their work to an annual progress review.
A doctoral degree requires serious academic work and commitment to research. We seek motivated candidates with challenging research topics and we will match their enthusiasm by providing devoted expert supervisors.

“IBS is a business school where students from different backgrounds are getting vital experience and developing key skills for their future career.”

AYAN MIRZAYEVA, AZERBAIJAN

WELLBEING SERVICES AND STUDENT LIFE

SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

We proactively help students explore potential career options and find opportunities. Students get real-life insights into different industries and a wide range of market leading companies. Our UpSkill programme gives students a unique competitive advantage on the job market. This is reflected in employer satisfaction surveys and high employment rates.

PEER MENTORING

The IBS Peer Mentoring Programme is a peer support programme where a second-year student acts as a mentor to a new first-year student. The peer mentor is there to help new students settle into life at IBS, life at a new university, city and country. Mentors receive regular trainings and are guided to help their mentees with any questions and concerns they may feel more comfortable asking a fellow student than anyone else.

STUDENT-LED CLUBS

IBS has several student-led clubs which form an active part of IBS student life. The clubs range from ‘professional interest’ activities such as Finance and Politics and International Relations to hobbies such as chess and music. All the clubs are free to join and are a great way for students to meet new people and make new friends. Not only can students join an existing club (IBS holds regular Club Fairs), but they can also start a brand-new club of their own.

SPORTS AT IBS

At IBS, the focus is primarily on recreational sports, instead of performance sport, thereby providing an opportunity to as many students as possible to meet new people, make friends, have fun and get healthy in an enjoyable environment. IBS sports activities typically include basketball, football, table tennis and yoga.

CAREER SERVICES

CAREER OFFICE

Our Career Office aims to assist students in their job search and in finding a professional internship position that is not only relevant to their studies, but also matches their personality and skills. We offer a range of services: career counselling, advice on CV writing, organising career days and ongoing skills development (UpSkill programme).

KEY CORPORATE PARTNERS

It is important to IBS that our students find the most suitable internship positions. With the help of our UpSkill programme, we are able to assess the most essential employability skills required on the labour market and help develop them during your studies.

We also seek continuous feedback from our partner companies by conducting annual satisfaction surveys on the quality of our students' work, skills and abilities. We organise our own job fair every semester in collaboration with our strategic partners, where our students have the opportunity to meet the largest international companies and apply for the internships and full-time jobs they offer.
